LORRAINE'S PILLS,
OR VEGETABLE UNIVERSAL MEDICINE.
CURATIVE OF THE French College of Health, in Paris.

The following letter was received yesterday by mail from Salem. It gives another evidence of the great success of Lorraine's Vegetable Universal Pills.

Sir—I have been for many years a sufferer from the ravages of Scrofula and Cancerous Humors, which at last seated on the vitals, and exhibited all the threatening symptoms of consumption. The general inability of all remedies awakened my enquiries as to the thousand different methods of cure, most of which I had recourse without receiving benefit. I accidentally noticed a remarkable cure of Lorraine's Pills, and was induced to give them a trial. I sent to Boston and got a box. By the use of them I found immediate relief and was soon restored to a perfect state of health.

J. E. NEWHALL.
Salem, 21st May, 1841.

The following letter from J. B. Light, Esq. is worth notice.

Sir—It took one of Lorraine's Vegetable Pills last evening for a pain in my head, that had effected me several days, occasioned by taking cold. I soon felt very calm, and quiet, and a state of general relaxation, which had great charms, and I enjoyed one of the most comfortable and refreshing nights that I ever did in my life. I rose in the morning in my usual state of health, and believe it is my duty to recommend this medicine.

Yours truly,
J. B. LIGHT.
Nov. 20th, 1841.

[From Boston Daily Mail.]

Somebody wisely says, that a cap loaded with wigs and flowers will not cure the headache, nor chains prevent the consumption. Lorraine's Vegetable Pills have done both.

Sir—I have been effectually cured of a severe headache by the use of Lorraine's Pills.

SARAH NOYES.

Rev. J. KNIGHT.
New York City, Nov. 1, 1841.

Family Medicine.

Sir—I have used Lorraine's Pills in my family as family medicine, and I would most earnestly recommend them to all persons, as the best medicine that can be procured. I would not be without them in any household, and never fail to give immediate relief. Until I used these Pills I was obliged to pay from 25 to $100 per year for medicines from 15 physicians; since then I have had no other doctor than Dr. Lorraine's Pills.

JAMES NEAL.
Hartford, Conn. July 8.

Lame Back.

Sarah Snow was cured of a lame back in one day, she had been unable to dress herself alone for 3 weeks.

Susan Jones of Boston, cured in 36 hours of lame back and side of three weeks standing.

Sick Headache.

Mrs. Bird of Providence says, that 'Lorraine's Pills have proved a real blessing to her. It has surmounted any thing that has been brought to the public notice. I have been cured of a sick headache that afflicted me for years, by the use of Lorraine's Pills.

THE CONDITION.

The condition upon which nature gives health to man, is a watchful care to keep his stomach and bowels free from morbid and unhealthy accumulations. Lorraine's Pills admirably effect this, by clearing the bowels and purifying the blood. The human body is always healthy when the bowels are regular, the blood circulates freely, and disease invariably commences when obstructions take place in the bowels.

The extraordinary virtues of Lorraine's Pills depends upon extracts of over 50 different vegetables, so admirably combined as to purify, nourish and fortify the human system.

SANDS' SARSAPARILLA.

FOR THE REMOVAL AND PERMANENT CURE OF ALL DISEASES ARISING FROM AN IMPURE STATE OF THE BLOOD, OR HABIT OF THE SYSTEM, NAMELY:

Scrofula, or King's Evil, rheumatism, obstinate cutaneous eruptions, pimples, or pustules on the face, blotches, biles, chronic sore eyes, ring worm or tetter, scald head, enlargement and pain of the bones and joints, stubborn ulcers, syphilitic symptoms, sciatica, or lumbago, and diseases arising from an injudicious use of the mercury, ascites, or dropsy, exposure or imprudence in life. Also, chronic constitutional disorders will be removed by this preparation.

The proprietors submit to the public the following certificate, from a highly respectable source, of a cure made by using their preparation of Sarsaparilla, which cannot but have the effect of placing beyond all doubt the curative powers of the medicine.

NEW YORK, August 3, 1842.

"Messrs. Sands—Gentlemen: Under a feeling sense of gratitude inherent to us all when suddenly relieved from suffering and disease, I now, as an act of justice due to you, and with a view of relieving the afflicted, make known to the world the inestimable benefit I have received from the use of your Sarsaparilla. In the year 1832 I sailed from England in a vessel bound for Quebec, and while on the passage first discovered the disease which after proved to be a sore affliction; and truly I can say, 'from the crown of my head to the sole of my foot there was no soundness in me.' From the time first mentioned down until the present, a period of more than ten years, I have suffered all that human nature was capable of bearing. I have been under the care of the most distinguished physicians both in this country and in England, visited Bath, Cleveham, Bristol and Gloucester, tried various specifics, among others a large quantity of Swaim's Panacea, used sulphur baths, &c. As a last resort I was induced to wrap myself in a tar ointment, keep myself secluded, shunned by all, myself also shunning. I was induced to believe my case a hopeless one.

In August last, by the advice of friends, I went to the New York City Hospital, but was there told that my case was incurable. The disease now enveloped my whole body, rendering me almost helpless; the skin thickened and cracked, and blood and matter ran, and life itself became almost a burden. A few weeks since I was induced to use your Sarsaparilla by hearing it so highly recommended, having spent nearly $3,000 without obtaining but little relief. After using it a short time, I found myself better, and now, by using six or eight bottles, costing me less than ten dollars, I am well. Yes, I certify and declare to the world, that after spending near $3,000 in traveling and doctoring, and suffering more than can be told, I was perfectly cured by using your invaluable preparation of Sarsaparilla; and I now recommend it to all similarly afflicted. Those wishing to know further particulars will find me at my residence, No. 27 Warren street, New York, where I shall be happy to communicate any thing in relation to the above cure.

PAUL BURDOCK.

Prepared and sold by A. B. SANDS & CO. Druggists and Chemists, Granite Buildings, 273 Broadway, corner of Chambers street, New York. And for sale by Druggists throughout the United States. Price $1 per bottle, six bottles for $5.

The public are respectfully requested to remember that it is Sands' Sarsaparilla that has and is constantly achieving such remarkable cures of the most difficult class of diseases to which the human frame is subject, and ask for Sands' Sarsaparilla, and take no other.

KOLMSTOCK'S VERMIFUGE.

THIS remedy for worms is one of the most extraordinary ever used. It effectually eradicates worms of all sorts, from children and adults. THOUSANDS perish by worms without the real cause being known. Some other reason is assigned for their sickness, until too late to cure the real cause.

What immense responsibility then rests upon the parent who does not know, and the doctor who does not understand, the complaint which is destroying those precious flowers of life—children.

What should be done?

The answer is plain. Give this vermifuge, which will be sure to do good, if they have no worms; and if they have, it will destroy and eradicate them with a certainty and precision truly astonishing. It cannot harm the smallest infant or the strongest adult. There is no mercury or mineral in it. Mercury is the basis of most worm remedies; and this remedy is sometimes worse than the disease. So never use lozenges, but rely upon this. Every person will be convinced on one trial, that it is the most perfect cure ever invented.

The immense sale that this vermifuge has, is a sure test of its value and the estimation in which it is held by families. It would be quite too expensive to publish the volumes of certificates that have been given for this article, and the users of it are requested to spread the name to all persons whom they think may be benefited by it.

Speak of it in all families, and you will do your duty to your fellow creatures, and feel assured of the approbation of all good men, and will receive your reward in heaven.

We call on all good citizens to make known the effects of this wonderful remedy.

Remember, and ask for Kolmstock's Vermifuge, though Falmstock's is supposed to be the same article: the one that has become known to you through the advertisement should be used, in justice to the proprietors.

Address COMSTOCK & CO., Wholesale Druggists, 71 Maiden Lane, New York.

For sale by G. W. HOLDEN, West Market Place, G. W. LADD, corner of Smith's Block, A. P. GUILD, Exchange street, and N. B. FOLSOM, Jr., Bangor.

MISCELLANEOUS.

The Two Beggar Boys.

"I can't encourage a boy of your age in begging, said a gentleman to a lad apparently about ten years old, who entreated him to give him a half penny; "you should work, not beg."

"I have not got any work," answered the boy.

"Would you do it if you had?" asked the gentleman.

"Yes," said the boy.

"What are your parents?" asked the gentleman.

"My father's dead," replied the child, "and my mother begs, and sends me out to beg; but I keep away from her because she beats me."

"And where do you sleep at night, when you don't go home?"

"Anywhere I can—under a hedge or in a door way; sometimes I get into a stable-yard or an empty cart."

"That's a miserable life," returned the gentleman; "come with me, and I'll give you a trial."

"What is your name?"

"George McMahon."

"Come along George McMahon. Now if you are wise this may prove your fortune, but remember beginnings are slow; you must work first for small wages, till you are stronger, and able to earn more; but if I see you are willing to work, I will do what I can for you."

"This gentleman, whose name was Herriot was the overseer of some public works; so George's capabilities were but limited, he put a hammer into his hands and set him to breaking stones, promising if he would be diligent, and break as many stones as he could, he should have eight pence a day and a place to sleep in at night.

"George McMahon set to his work with a good heart. The stones were not very hard, and they had already been broken into small pieces—his business was to break them still smaller; and when he exerted his strength and struck them a good blow he could do very well. However when he worked a little while, he began to make rather long pauses between the strokes, and look a good deal about him, especially when any well dressed person passed that way; and once or twice, when he thought no one was looking, he drew down the hammer and applied himself to his former trade of begging for a half penny to buy a bit of bread. When he had in this way, made out some three or four hours, he was accosted by an acquaintance of his, a boy about his own age, and also a beggar. The only difference in their situation was, that the mother of the latter was very sickly and unable to support him, and would not have sent him to beg if she could have done any thing better for him.

"What!" said the new comer, whose name was John Reid; "have you got leave to break stones?"

"Yes," answered George, "a gentleman has given me a job; I am to have eight-pence a day, and a place to sleep in," and George at that moment felt himself a person of considerable consequence.

"I wish he would give me a job too," said John; "do you think he would?"

"You can ask him if you like," answered George; "that's his office, and I saw him go in there just now." So John presented himself to Mr. Herriot, and said he should be very glad if he would give him a job, as he had done George McMahon, and after asking him a few questions, Mr. Herriot supplied him with a hammer and set him to work.

"It was quite evident, from the way he set about his work, that it was John Reid's intention to break as many stones as he could; and accordingly by night his Leap was much larger than George McMahon's, although he had not worked so long; but then he hit them with all his might, did not take long pauses between his strokes to look about him, and when any well dressed person passed, instead of slipping away to beg for a half penny, he only grasped his hammer with more firmness, gave harder blows, and appeared more intent upon his work; for is by the way of industry and honesty. John felt this and that was the reason he liked his work, he saw that it made him respectable because it is respectable to be useful. Indeed the being useful is the source of the only true respect mankind can ever enjoy. All the homage which is yielded to their other attributes—wealth, station, and power—unless these are beneficially exercised, that is made useful, is only factitious; a sentiment compounded of fear, baseness, and self-interest

The Advantages for Manufacturing in Bangor.

The high prices demanded for land in this city and vicinity a few years since and the public sentiment by which such prices were sustained were so much above the true value, that the reaction of the public mind regarding the value of land appears likely to run into the opposite extreme and to carry the prices of land as far below as they were formerly above the true value. One moving cause probably to this low estimate of value was the uncertainty that for a time hung over the title to lands.

Several transfers of real estate have recently been made at prices below their real value, and so low is real estate generally now held that there is probably no better or safer mode to invest capital than in the purchase of productive real estate in Bangor.

The prevailing prices of real estate and the certainty of good titles now to be found make this city one of the most favorable locations for the establishment of manufactures suited to this section of the country and for the enlargement of these already established. Real estate can be purchased here now at prices as low as are paid in nearly every inland town in Massachusetts where manufacturing has been introduced. The means of communication with Boston and the commercial cities is cheap and rapid: and heavy or bulky freights are conveniently transported and at low rates. We have an immense back country to supply and from which can be drawn all necessary agricultural productions. We have a surrounding country abounding in raw material for all manufactures of wood, of slate of clay of granite, of marble, of leather, of horns, &c. The home demand for manufactures is already large and may be greatly increased. The dominion of the forest is yearly becoming less throughout the great region north east, north, north west from this city, and an industrious and intelligent population is fast pouring in and making the wilderness to bud and blossom as the rose. The cities and the pleasant villages of New England are annually making contributions of their enlightened and cherished citizens, to people, elevate and adorn our State. They are tempted to come hither and make their homes by the low price of land, by the good markets, the educational advantages and by the security to health, refinement and happiness to be found in Maine.

These are the consumers and customers upon whom manufacturers may safely rely for support, while their surplus productions can be put into more distant markets with a fair chance of successful competition. Whoever will take the trouble to examine the advantages which our city presents for the prosecution of manufactures, cannot fail to become satisfied that few places if any in New England, can offer so many hopeful and sure prospects of success. This whole subject is one of vital interest to all our citizens and to all in any way interested in the growth and prosperity of our city and this section of the State. All that is required to insure success is for our people to sustain with a generous hand the manufactures already commenced and to encourage the introduction of others, and to have all the facts well known and widely spread. We shall be happy at all times to promote these desirable objects.

Our friends W. K. Foster & Co. whose advertisement may be found in our columns are carrying on a branch of business of no little importance to our city. They are manufacturing about eighteen hundred tarpauline hats a month and employ in this branch about forty persons, many of them females who are enabled to maintain their children comfortably and give them the benefits of a good education. Those acquainted with the hats made by the Messrs Foster inform us that they are of superior quality and are what they profess to be, water proof. We witnessed some tests which fully satisfy us of this fact. The improvements that have been made in the manufacturing of hats by these men are quite interesting and show what may be effected by the concentration of thought upon a single object. The hats from this factory are to be found in many parts of Massachusetts and such is their reputation in the market that although they cost a trifle more than others that appear about as well when new, the demand for them is on the increase.

It will be seen on referring to our advertisement that Mr. Shed who has done so much to improve the hand writing of the people in this country has returned to this city and offers his services to the public. His reputation is established and it is only necessary for him to be known that he is in town.

Temperance Lecture.

We are requested to state that there will be a lecture on the subject of Temperance THIS EVENING, at the New Court House, by Mr. CHARLES T. WOODMAN, of Boston. Mr. Woodman is one of the most popular lecturers on this subject, and no man can better portray the blessings of temperance, or paint in more vivid colors the drunkard's woe. He speaks from experience, that best of all school masters, is a man of much intelligence, great versatility of genius, a ready and confident speaker, and one who cannot fail to interest an audience. We hope our citizens generally, of both sexes, will attend, and give him a hearing.

The Madisonian is trying to put the whole country into a state of commotion by declaring in the most positive terms that Col Benton has made a mortgage deed of all the Van Buren portion of the 'Democracy' to Mr. Clay, the whole to be delivered safe and sound in 1844! In proof of this it is positively asserted that Col Benton met Mr. Clay at the Kentucky races and they actually in the presence of several persons, in open day, when the sun was shining upon them—shook hands and passed the time of day!! The Madisonian is a great paper!

Repeal Meeting.

The repeal meeting at the City Hall on Monday evening was well attended and was addressed in an effective manner by several gentlemen, among them Mr. Homan, Col. Moulton, Mr. Crowley, Mr. Croghan and others. The amount received was $8.25 and ten members were added to the association. The interest in this matter appears to increase with every meeting and as the people become acquainted with the subject.

The next meeting of the association will be held at the Repeal Hall on Court Street.

There was a generous and much needed rain night before last and yesterday. This will be of great benefit to the crops, which, in the eastern part of the state were suffering from the drought.

The Tyler organs complain of the frauds and treachery and sudden conversions of those holding and soliciting office under the Captain—This is not proper; to be consistent they should approve these mean traits as a humble imitation of the Captain under whom they serve.

The far famed Virginia Minstrels will give another of their unique Concerts at the City Hall, this evening.

Flora of Bangor.

A DESCRIPTION OF THE PLANTS OF BANGOR AND ITS VICINITY, WITH THEIR GENERIC AND SPECIFIC CHARACTERS, PLACES OF GROWTH AND TIME OF FLOWERING.

BY AARON YOUNG, JR.

Number 14.

Description of Plants.

D. ORDER ROSACEÆ. Rose-like plants. Calyx persisting, pitcher-shaped, contracted at the neck, limb divided; lobes sometimes with appendages. Petals five inserted into the top of the calyx. Stamens numerous, indefinite, inserted on the calyx under the petals. Germs free, many, enclosed in the fleshy, persistent calyx. Stem shrubby, woody, when injured a strong shoot overtopping the original stem is thrown from the root. Leaves pinnate; stipules adnate to the petiole, covered with thorns, or bristles. Stems thorny, or none. Properties—Astringent, refrigerant, febrifuge.

ROSA* PARVIFLORA. Ehrh. Swamp Rose—Icosandra. Polygynia (11—13). The common wild rose, the name by which it is more generally known grows abundantly in swamps and woods, usually forming thickets by itself and sometimes attaining the height of 4 or 5 feet. The stems are erect, sometimes procumbent, covered with straight, needle-shaped prickles, sometimes none. Leaves pinnate, leaflets five to nine, lance-oval, smooth, coarsely serrate. Stipules large, somewhat toothed. Fruit depressed-globose and with the peduncle of the calyx, appendaged. The flowers are usually in pairs; petals large, red, broadly obovate, notched. Several varieties of this species occur sometimes in the same thicket and it is often difficult to determine the true species, but from several examinations of our plant, I am convinced that the different varieties and some of those now considered new species, all descended from one species. It is not unusual to find different shaped leaves, and stems free from prickles, even from the same root. June, July and August. R. caroliniana. Mich.

ROSA* RUBIGINOSA. Linn. Sweet Briar. The stems of this species are from three to four feet high, very slender, the younger ones reclining at top, the older ones much branched, armed with strong prickles, compressed and hooked, rarely straight. Leaflets five to seven, ovate or somewhat rounded, serrate, more or less, especially beneath glandular and ferruginous. The flowers are solitary, sometimes two or three together, pale red. Fruit elliptical, short and with the peduncles hispid. Like the preceding species this is also a very variable one. It may be known from the R. parviflora—just described—by its sweet scent, its curved prickles and the smaller size of its leaves. Common on old road sides—July and August. R. suaveolens Pursh. Ell.

*Lat. rose. From Celtic rhos, or rhudd, red, alluding to the prevailing color of the flower.

DALIBARDA* REPENS. Linn. Dry Strawberry. White Dalibarda. A very beautiful little plant growing among brakes and the decayed leaves in woods. Stem creeping; leaves on long petioles, heart-shaped, obtuse, crenate, covered with thin hairs. Peduncles one flowered, as long as the petioles. Calyx smooth without, reflexed; petals oval; stamens capillary, many. Flowers white. D. violatoides. Mich. Rubus dalibarda. Linn. June and July. Barkerville, common.

*In honor of M. Dalibard, a French botanist.

POTENTILLA* SIMPLEX. Mich. Common five finger or Cinquefoil. This is a very common plant, and spreads very rapidly in fields and pastures. The stem is erect somewhat procumbent or reclining at the top, rough hairy. Leaflets in fives, oval-lanceolate, acutely toothed, a little hairy beneath and on short petioles. Stipules lanceolate, entire, peduncles lateral, solitary, elongated, one flowered. Flowers yellow. Petals roundish, inversely heart-shaped, longer than the calyx, lobes of the calyx lanceolate—linear, pointed. Very common June till September. P. canadensis. Linn.

POTENTILLA* ARGENTEA. Linn. Silver five finger. This is a very common, but pretty species growing on road sides and in pastures, preferring a hard sandy soil. Stems ascending, erect or procumbent—sometimes radiating from the root. Leaves alternate, consisting of five wedge form or spatulate leaflets, cut into a few lobes or large teeth at the end. Flowers numerous, on the ends of the branches, small, yellow. The whole plant is covered, with the exception of the upper surface of the leaves, with a silky white pubescence. June till September.

POTENTILLA* TRIDENTATA. Ait. Mountain Cinquefoil. This is an abundant plant on the plains at Brunswick, particularly in the College yard and I believe has not been found anywhere else in our State, except on mountainous tracts. Stem three to six inches high, prostrate, irregular, crooked, and somewhat woody at base; stipules subulate at the top below the leaves. Leaves ternate-palmate; leaflets obovate-wedge-form, leathery, three toothed at the summit, pubescent beneath. Flowers white, in a sort of a corymb, loose, few flowered. Petals oblong-ovate, longer than the calyx. June and July.

POTENTILLA* SARMENTOSA. Muhl. Running Cinquefoil. This is a very pretty species, very common in dry woods and pastures, sometimes attaining the height of 2 or 3 feet. Stem very weak, procumbent, supported by the grass and decayed brush wood around. Leaves quinate with hairy petioles. Leaflets obovate, obtuse, their upper half deeply serrated, glabrous above, paler and hairy underneath. Peduncles solitary, filiform, hairy. Calyx segments hairy, acute, some of them furnished with a small tooth or two. Petals roundish, reflexed, a little longer than the calyx. May till October. Very common at Gorham. Woods at Barkerville.

*Lat. potentia, power, from its imaginary medical virtues.

Corn Bees-wax.

Some rogue has been supplying the merchants of St. Louis with large quantities of "bees-wax" made chiefly of corn-meal. He sold to one house several hundred pounds, at 22 cts. per lb., being about 2 cts. less than the price of the genuine. Five parts of the corn-meal were combined by a chemical process with one part of bees-wax, and the whole run in to a cake, which, (says the St. Louis Republican,) would defy the judgment of the best connoisseur.

Mr Pitts remarked that the two greatest "gifts" in a representative were "the gift of places and the gift of gab."

These instances belong to the same family of the note a man directed to his wife—2 Nh Yf. Bangor Whig.

Death of Commander Dallas.

The Troy Whig says that Alexander J. Dallas, late Browne, a Commander in the U. States Navy, died at the Troy House, in that city, on Wednesday last. He arrived in Troy in the month of May, accompanied by his daughter, on his way to Saratoga for the benefit of his health; but on account of the coolness of the weather at that time, preferred staying in that city. His health gradually declined until the day of his death. Mr. Dallas was a native of Connecticut, and a nephew of the late Alexander J. Dallas, Secretary of the Treasury under Mr. Madison. He entered the Navy about 25 years ago, and has seen much service.

Arrest of Counterfeiters.

The New York Tribune states that an arrest of counterfeiters of American coin had been made in New York. The officers succeeded in arresting Joel Nason, a wealthy white and blacksmith of Boston, together with George Whitehouse, as also his wife. After securing these, they searched the house, and found there a handsome die for making the spurious half eagle, together with some of the coin and some counterfeit half dollars; also found the iron press weighing some 800 pounds, and all the other implements and metal necessary for carrying on an extensive manufactory of counterfeit coin. They also arrested J. Sherman and took them all to the Police Office.

The Boston Mail states that Mason was long suspected in Boston but could not be detected. Constable Chapp of Boston proceeded to Nason's house No. 107 Hanover street, and on searching found 37 dies for making Haytien coin, and a quantity of the coin ready for utterance. These coiners were committed in New York, and will be handed over to the United States authorities for trial.

Fire at Boston.

The Boston Mail states that a fire broke out on Monday morning, in the provision store of Messrs Tent & Baird, on the corner of Essex street. The inside of the store and all the goods were consumed. Loss on goods $3000, half insured.

Rebellion in Illinois.

The St. Louis Era, of the evening of the 5th, says—"Two hundred citizens of Coles County, Illinois, have resolved in public meeting that no heed should be paid to the decision of the Supreme Court of the United States, setting aside the appraisement law of Illinois; that all officers be advised not to carry out such decision in the sale of property; that they be asked to resign their offices if they cannot comply with such recommendations; that they (the people) will oppose them by force of arms and all other means in their power.

Riot at Sherbrooke, L. C.

For three years past the Fourth of July has been celebrated by the discharge of cannon, &c. at Sherbrooke, L. Canada. This year the firing was executed immediately under the British flag, which so incensed a number of the inhabitants, that a riot ensued, in which several on both sides were seriously injured.
